

Beyond the mandate of drafting and designing, Mobil.id can assume responsibility for manufacturing the equipment to deliver a finished product.

This service allows manufacturing companies to reduce their internal management over the project without affecting their ability to get the best price. For after the acceptance of the design by the client, Mobil.id will ask 3 companies to bid on the equipment to be manufactured. The start-up of the equipment is the responsibility of Mobil.id which is committed in delivering the best performance product at the best price.

Our mandate may also be limited to project monitoring. In this case Mobil.id is responsible for coordinating the various players (subcontractors, suppliers) to the objective of achieving the best cost. In this case the company Mobil.id is not responsible for the bidding process and equipment start-up, although it may participate as a consultant.
